Description

Cikcilli is one of the oldest and most comfortable areas of the city of Alanya. Along with the city center, this part has long been inhabited, and the administrative center will gradually move here after the construction of a large new administration is completed. It will be on the border of the Oba and Cikcilli regions, as the official borders are somewhat blurred.

All the major supermarkets of the city are located here: the Metro hypermarket, the Alanyum shopping center, the large MMM Migros, and many furniture and textile stores that are familiar to every newcomer of the city.
